CANVASS FOR CHIEF.

Vroman the Probable Next Chief of the Engineers.

Chief Arthur Understood to Have Been Reprimanded.

Some Surprises Expected To-day in the Cronin Case

Proof that Dr. Cronin Entered the Carlson Cottage.

DENVER, October 23.—The locomotive engineers to-day concluded the investigation begun yesterday, of the charges against one of the grand officers. It is understood that the lodge adopted resolutions reprimanding him. The election of officers has been postponed until Monday. Cavener, the Chicago candidate for grand chief, withdrew to-day and the only candidates now in the field are P. M. Arthur, G. W. Vroman, of North Platte, Neb., and B. W. Vedder, of Sedalia, Mo. Predictions are being made that Vroman will be elected as the canvass of delegates made yesterday failed to give Arthur a majority.

A resolution introduced to-day providing for the location of the permanent headquarters of the brotherhood at Chicago was defeated. Other candidates for this honor are Cleveland, O., St. Louis and Denver, with everything favorable for the former. A resolution was introduced favoring the location of the world's fair at Chicago and adopted unanimously. To-morrow the insurance question will be discussed, and on Friday and Saturday the delegates make an excursion over the Rio Grande railway up the Grand canon and over Marshall pass.

CHICAGO, October 23.—The Journal this evening asserts that either in State's Attorney Longenecker's opening speech in the Cronin case to-morrow or in the evidence to be introduced later, there will be several surprises.

The weak point in the case has always been supposed to be the inability of the State to show that Dr. Cronin actually entered the Carlson cottage on the night of the murder. The Journal claims that the [illegible] has two witnesses who saw Cronin driven up to the cottage and watched him enter. It is also said that evidence will be produced to show that four men took part in the murder, Coughlin, Cooney, Burke and a man not yet arrested or [illegible] O'Sullivan, it is claimed, [illegible] as lookout [illegible] Kunze is held to be the man who drove Cronin to the cottage.

OTTAWA, October 23.—The residents of Allen's Settlement, in [illegible] county, have been thrown into wild excitement over the discovery that for upwards of a year, John T. Blondin, 22 years of age, who has been teaching one of the schools, has been [illegible] a number of his pupils. On Saturday night Mrs. George Pellit, wife of one of the most respected [illegible] of the settlement, found her daughter Tillie, aged 14, crying bitterly. The girl acknowledged that she was in a [illegible] condition and that Blondin was responsible. Blondin was arrested. On Monday the [illegible] of the village formed a vigilance committee. Headed by the father of the victim they went in a body for the house in which Blondin boarded, only to find him safely lodged in jail.

By this time it had become generally known that he had [illegible] ten or twelve other children from 12 to 15 years of age. He had been in the habit of delaying young girl pupils after school when he would treat them to candy and after getting them under his influence accomplish their ruin. He would keep them in alternately, enjoining them to secrecy under the threat of [illegible] them if they ever breathed a word to their parents or schoolmates. Blondin always bore an excellent reputation. He is greatly broken down over the discovery of his villainy. It is reported that another attempt will be made to lynch him.

LOUISVILLE, October 23.—News has been received of an engagement between the Howard and Turner factions at Harlan yesterday. J[illegible] Dean of the Howard party was killed and five others were wounded. Three of the Turner crowd were wounded. A correspondent telegraphs from Pineville that Wilson Howard and one of his principal henchmen, named Jennings, are among the the wounded. It is said that Howard's injury is probably fatal.

The Turners have been in possession of the town for more than a week. Their leader, John Turner, is 17 years of age. Howard's forces have been in camp a mile from the town. There are forty men in each crowd and all armed with Winchesters and revolvers. Yesterday morning Turner led his followers in an attack on the Howard camp. The attacking party got in the first work, but were finally driven back to town. A report reached Pineville at 11 o'clock this morning that the Howard forces are in [illegible] they left camp last night and started for Harlan court house intending to kill everybody that belongs to the opposition and burn the town.

[illegible]

NEWARK, N. J., October 23.—Two well dressed men and a woman drove up to the German Savings bank this afternoon. The [illegible] the bank, [illegible] the [illegible] that the lady was unable to walk and asked to [illegible] to him. One of the men [illegible] the cashier went out and [illegible] about bank business, after which all three of the strangers drove away. Soon after it was discovered that $1,150 had been stolen from behind the railing. The thief entered the enclosure apparently through the gate which the cashier had left open. He overlooked a package of $5,000 bills.

[illegible]

MILWAUKEE, October 23.—The Pan-Americans left Chicago this morning. On their arrival here they were taken in carriages and shown the business and residence streets of the city. The party is in charge of Captain Burke, United States army, temporarily, in the absence of W. E. Curtis, the representative of the state department, who is ill in Chicago.

To Mark the Grave.

LONDON, October [illegible]—[illegible] movement on foot here to raise funds to erect a monument over the grave of Lord Howe, recently discovered at Ticonderoga, N. Y.

Position Changed.

DENVER, October 23.—S. V. Derrah, the commercial agent of the Santa Fe in this city, has been appointed to the same position on the Missouri Pacific at Salt Lake City. The appointment goes into effect on November 1st.

Butler Will Use his Pen.

BOSTON, October 23.—General B. F. Butler says he proposes to write a complete history of the public affairs in which he has been concerned, in which he proposes to do justice to his friends and enemies, especially the latter.

Hanged for his Crime.

POTTSVILLE, Penn., October 23.—Peter Boronovski was hanged this morning for the murder of the wife of Anthony Pullavitch and her servant Annie Kutch. The motive was robbery, $800 being secured. The murderer burned the house in which the crime was committed.

The State Wins.

BALTIMORE, October 23.—Last year the oyster police force fired into several oyster boats dredging for oysters in violation of the law. Suits for damages were brought against the state by the owners in the federal court. Yesterday a decision was rendered in favor of the state.

Persecuting Christians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 23.—A stir in official circles has been caused by the discovery that Russian officials have been gathering evidence of the persecution of Christians in Armenia by the Turks. The sultan has given orders looking to the redress of their grievances. Mo[illegible] Bey, governor of Armenia, will be punished.

Strike in the Hocking Valley.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, October 23.—Between six and seven hundred miners employed in the four mines of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company in the Hocking Valley have struck. They are Progressive Union men. The men refuse to work unless their organization is recognized by the company.

Bravely Did His Duty.

LOUISVILLE, October 23.—Van Dyke Hagar, 18 years of age, was injured in a wreck at Nolin station on the Louisville and Nashville railroad yesterday morning and died in the afternoon. He met his death through bravely stopping to assist a woman. About twenty persons were more or less seriously hurt.

[illegible]

ST. LOUIS, October 23.—There seems to have been an error in reporting the verdict in the Bowman inquest yesterday. The verdict was that Bowman came to his death from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by Chambers and that Chambers is unlawfully and feloniously responsible for the death of Bowman.

News of Stanley.

BERLIN, October 23.—A cable received from Captain Wissman states that reliable news has been received concerning Emin Pasha and Henry M. Stanley, Signor Casati and six Englishmen. They are all expected to arrive at Newapwa the latter part of November. Captain Wissman also says he defeated the insurgents near Somwe and killed seventy.

Three [illegible]

BOSTON, October 23.—It is stated at the Union Pacific office here that the decision to divide the system into three is only for the purpose of more effective organization. In the opinion [illegible] The system of 6,000 miles and a fleet of steamships has outgrown its old status and general managers at Portland, Salt Lake and Omaha are now necessary.

[illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO, October 23.—The steamer St. Paul, which arrived from Ounalaska last night, brought down forty six Yukon miners. They report [illegible] destitution among the miners along the Yukon but say that the recent reports of starvation there were exaggerated. No news has been received of the party that went overland from Juneau to the Yukon and it is unlikely that anything definite will be learned from them until next spring.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, October 23.—Secretary Tracy has concluded the work on the estimates for the naval establishments for the year 1890-91. The appropriations for the year 1889-90 were in round numbers $22,450,000. This includes several millions for the construction of new vessels now under way or projected. It is understood that the estimates finally passed by Secretary Tracy show an increase of about three millions over those of last year, chiefly for new work on vessels and improvements and additions to the navy yard.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., October 23.—The armed Polanders who have been holding possession of the Polish parish house at Plymouth surrendered to the authorities this morning. Father Bushet, the new priest, then took possession of the house. The Polanders are still very bitter and say they will prevent the priest from saying mass on Sunday.

LATER—The Polanders have again taken possession of the house, and driven the priest out. Upon the advice of Bishop O'Hara, who wishes to prevent bloodshed, no effort has been made to put the intruders out.

A Crank's Act

CHICAGO, October 23.—Somewhat of a sensation was created in the vicinity of the state's attorney's office early this morning by the action of Joseph Neville, an Irishman, who demanded to see Longenecker, and yelled that the men on trial would never be allowed to hang. He shouted that he and his family were Clan na Gael's and dynamiters and that Judge Longenecker would be done up. Neville was placed under arrest. The police say he is a crank whose erratic idea had been inspired partially by liquor and that he would be looked after.

The Race Question.

NEW YORK, October 23.—In the Episcopal convention this morning in the house of deputies, the colored question was reopened. The committee on conference appointed by the house of bishops, recommended that the deputies accede to the desire of the upper house and pass a resolution defining the attitude of the Episcopal church toward the negro race. The deputies declined to reconsider their action. A resolution to substitute for the words "Protestant Episcopal" the words "American Church," amounting to a change in the title of the church, was referred to the next convention. A resolution from the joint committee on liturgical revision, providing for the omission of the prayer for the president was rejected. The question of marriage and divorce has been discussed with closed doors this afternoon.

GLADSTONE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Gladstone Enthusiastically Received at Southport.

He Criticises at Length the Present Government's Work

Argues for An Appeal, on Behalf of Ireland, to the People.

Evidence of the Failure of the Coercion Act Presented.

Gladstone's Speech

LONDON, October 23.—Gladstone, who delivered an address at Southport this evening, was enthusiastically welcomed. Gladstone reviewed the work of the liberal party during the past few years. He paid a tribute to the laudable anxiety of the powers to postpone a European crisis. He referred to the Cretan question as a formidable menace to the peace of Europe. He criticized at length the government's work and claimed that all its useful measures were liberal. The speech was short and somewhat disappointing.

Gladstone made a point by declaring that the principles of the dock strikers applied to the tenants and tradesmen in Ireland would have been penal. He was touched by the election gains and believed that if they could end the septennial act and appeal to the people to-morrow the verdict would be in favor of the liberals and justice to Ireland. The bulk of the speech was devoted to Irish grievances. He said that the necessity for the continued proclaiming of new districts was an evidence of the failure of the coercion policy, and he declared that the crime rate was now the same as in 1884 when in order to secure the support of the Parnellites, the tories declared coercion was no longer necessary.

The World's Fair

WASHINGTON, October 23.—One hundred or more gentlemen representing the National Board of Promotion, organized for the purpose of having the world's fair of '92 held in Washington, met to-day. Those present came from various parts of the country and were nearly all members of boards of trade or similar bodies. Delaware, Maryland and Florida were represented by their governors. A memorial to congress was adopted as the sense of the meeting asking an appropriate celebration in '92 of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by an exhibition designed to show the progress of civilization in the western hemisphere since. The memorial prays "That the dignity of the nation be not entrusted to any corporation, association or municipality, but that the exposition be held at the national capital, exclusively under the control of the general government and that from the treasury of the United States, overflowing as it is with revenue far exceeding the needs of the government, the excess of expenditure, if any there be above the receipts, be met."

Application [illegible]

DENVER, October 23.—A Santa Fe, N. M., special says: In the district court Judge Whitman has handed down a decision in the case of C. H. Gildersleeve and the Santa Fe Mining company, denying the complainant's application for a rehearing. The case involves a one-fourth interest in the celebrated Ortiz mining grant, which is one of the richest mineral tracts in the west, and valued at $3,000,000. The case has been pending for some time in one form or another. The suit has been bitterly contested, and nearly a year ago Judge Reeves of Texas, then on the bench here, rendered a decree in favor of the company. It was this decree that Gildersleeve sought to reverse by asking a rehearing on the ground that the court erred in admitting certain testimony by Stephen B. Elkins and deciding that the will of J. F. Ortiz and Marguita Montoya was valid while Gildersleeve alleged it was a forgery.

[illegible] Market.

NEW YORK, October 23.—The strength in the stock market continued to day and while the trading was less active in the forenoon it increased later when several stocks moved up rapidly. The advances however were not so prominent and while the entire active list is again higher to night, the improvement is generally confined to fractional amounts. The important final changes are few in number.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 23.—Judge McDonald, of the county court assaulted James Kelly, a Journal reporter, to day. The Journal this morning referred in uncomplimentary terms to one of the Judge's decisions and when a reporter addressed him McDonald flew into a passion and struck the reporter twice in the face with his fist, knocking him down. The police officers were [illegible] and witnessed the affair, arrested the judge and took him to the station where he was released on his own recognizance.

General Alger said this evening that he thought it part of his duty to visit and inspect each department. The best time to do this is during the state encampments and to prevent a conflict of dates was the object of to day's conference.

Bad Weather in Virginia.

WINCHESTER, Va., October 23.—It snowed most of the day and the thermometer is now at freezing point. Thirty six years ago to day snow fell to the depth of fourteen inches, breaking down trees and shrubbery. Reports from Staunton and Harrisonburg report that the weather has been extremely inclement all day, alternately raining, hailing and snowing.

Flood in St. Petersburg.

LONDON, October 23.—News comes from St. Petersburg that a sudden rise in the waters of the river Neva has flooded the whole lower part of the city and a large number of streets are under water from one end to the other. No lives are reported lost, but the damage to property along the water front extends for many miles on both sides of the river and will reach enormous figures.

[illegible] Deal.

NEW YORK, October 23.—The World this morning prints a lengthy story to the effect that an alliance has been formed between the Chicago and Northwestern and Union Pacific railways, and [illegible] will henceforth be operated in harmony. The agreement has been ratified by the boards of directors of both companies.

The Floor Gave Way.

MONTREAL, Canada, October 23.—This afternoon as the auction of unclaimed baggage was in progress in a building on St. James street a portion of the floor gave way. Thirty people were precipitated into the cellar beneath trunks, heavy baggage and a large quantity of debris. No one was seriously hurt.

[illegible] and Strikers.

LONDON, October 23.—Striking weavers and worsted workers at Chemnitz and Limbach are growing more violent every day. Collisions between the strikers and troops are of frequent occurrence and in some of these to day the soldiers used their bayonets freely and many of the malcontents were wounded.

The Lewis Hearing.

WASHINGTON, October 23.—Secretary Blaine to day began the hearing in the case of United States Consul to Morocco Lewis on the charge made against him by a merchant of Fez. The inquiry will be continued next week.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Barbour, Brooke & Gardner, manufacturer's agents and dealers in draperies of New York have made a general assignment.

The flouring mill of L. W. Porter, at Winona Minn., was burned yesterday morning. The loss is one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

There was quite a lively snow storm at Sandy Hook yesterday. It was the first of the season.

The Vincents.

The following notice of the Vincents, Felix and Eva, who appear at the opera house next Monday evening, is taken from a Colorado exchange:

We have witnessed many plays put upon the boards in this city, but the first play we have ever seen any acting in was last night. The Felix A. Vincent combination opened in Dick's hall and fairly took the audience by storm. It was something our people had not been accustomed to, something that few of them have an opportunity of witnessing, and those present who are accustomed to pass their winters in a better clime frankly admitted that Eva and Felix Vincent and their company would hold a proud position in any city in the union.

* * * * * * *

Miss Eva Vincent proved herself to be one of the brightest stars in the theatrical constellation, winning the admiration of the audience before she was before them five minutes and holding it until the fall of the curtain. The way in which Felix A. Vincent played the part of [illegible] never before seen in this city. * * * The performance concluded with "The Bonnie Fish Wife," in which Eva Vincent showed herself to be not only an actress but a vocalist, and won a well deserved encore for her medley of twenty [illegible] songs. * * But there it is so long since we have seen anything as good as the Felix Vincent company that it is difficult for us to find words to express just how good they are. Our advice is to go and see them.

Yesterday a big cash sale of lots at Green Mountain Falls was made by the Town and Improvement company. Mr James H. Jewett, of New York, purchased thirty residence lots, on which he proposes to erect ten cottages, to cost from $700 to $1000 each, the plans for which are now being made. The remaining lots will be built upon within the next eighteen months. In addition to these buildings Mr. Jewett proposes to build a residence at the Falls for his family, to cost $8000 and also one for his son in law.

We shall publish on Sunday the first of a series of articles contributed by members of the American Institute of Civics. The first one is by President Gates, of Rutger's College, New Jersey. The second will be by John Habberton, author of "Helen's Babies," on "Suggesting the Ideal Citizen." President Gates who contributed the first article, is a member of the faculty of the Institute of Civics, which also includes the names of the late Alexander Johnston, of Princeton College; Prof. [illegible] Folwell, of the University of Minnesota; Prof. [illegible] Burdick, of Cornell University; President Andrews, of Brown University; Professor James, of the University of Pennsylvania; Prof. Bernard Moses, of the University of California; President Eaton of Marietta College; that Nestor in the ranks of education, the venerable Henry Barnard, of Hartford, and other men equally well known, both by reason of their contributions to political [illegible] literature, and by their connection with some of our highest institutions of learning.

The objects of the Institute, which is incorporated under the laws of Congress are set forth as follows:

1. To promote on the part of youths and adults generally, without reference to the inculcation of special theories or partisan views, a patient and [illegible] study of the most essential facts relating to the affairs of government and citizenship, to the end that every citizen may be qualified to act the part of an intelligent and upright juror in all affairs submitted to the decision of the ballot.

2. To promote, in the same spirit, such special attention to the study of civics in higher institutions of learning, and otherwise, as shall have a tendency to secure wise, impartial, and patriotic action on the part of those who shall occupy positions of trust and responsibility, as executive or legislative officers, and as leaders of public opinion.

The first signature to the articles of incorporation is that of the late Chief Justice Waite, who was late president of the board of trustees, and actively interested in the institute's work from its initiation until his death. His successor as trustee, is Chief Justice Fuller, and his successor as president of the board, the venerable William Strong, associate justice of the same court. Among other members of the board are Theodore W. Dwight, Bishop Vincent, Noah Porter, Orlando B. Potter, Col. Nathan H. R. Dawson, Carroll D. Wright, Julius H. Seelye, Ainsworth R. Spofford, Alexander Winchell, Senators Hawley and Morrill, and the late F. A. P. Barnard.

The institute takes its name from a new word, coined by its president, for want of any other single word having the same signification. "Civics," he says, "includes those correlated subjects with which American citizens should be in some degree familiar, in order to a wise use of their powers and privileges, and which could not be properly correlated under any name previously used in the nomenclature of science. Civics embraces facts in civil polity, law, ethics and economics which can be grouped under no one of these separate heads and constitutes, therefore, a separate and comprehensive science, which has for its field all that relates to citizenship. [illegible] of the late Prof. Johnston, and of Dr. E. E. White, so well known in connection with educational affairs.

The institute has in successful operation a department of popular work, with a corps of lecturers, whose work lies in connection with the lyceums and similar popular organizations, a department of public school work, which has already [illegible] the teaching of civics or instruction with a view to good citizenship, into the [illegible] of public schools; a department of college and professional school work, in which it has enlisted the co-operation of more than one hundred and fifty institutions of the class in [illegible] in connection with which [illegible] made by [illegible] for the bestowal of a large number of rewards to meritorious students; and a department of the press, in which it seeks the co-operation of the leading newspapers, and which has in its membership the following representative journals:

The Boston Daily Advertiser, Springfield (Mass.) Republican, Indianapolis Sentinel, Troy (N. Y.) Daily Press, New York Mail and Express, Columbus (Ohio) Evening Dispatch, The Gazette, Colorado Springs, Colo., Fort Worth (Texas) Gazette, Chicago Daily News, Omaha Bee, Nashville (Tenn.) American, Philadelphia Press, Philadelphia, Pa., and many others.

THE ART LECTURES.

"Line Engraving" the Subject of Mrs. Adsit's Talk Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. Adsit's lecture on "Line Engraving" was given yesterday afternoon to an audience that comes to each subject in the course with a renewed interest. Engravings of the French, German, English, Italian and American schools were exhibited and analyzed and the difference between line work and etching pointed out.

Line engraving is generally spoken of as steel engraving, but no steel is used, because it is hard and difficult to cut and the lines are cold and hard, while copper works more easily and gives a softer impression. Copper engraving is the handmaid of painting, especially if the engraver catches the spirit and power of the painting he seeks to reproduce in his drawing and rises to its level. No ink is permissible on the surface of a copper plate and the engraving from it is all pure line work and the plates are prepared by hammering in order to pack the fiber. The drawing is outlined on the plate with a needle.

Experts are employed in Europe to go from gallery to gallery making drawings of the paintings which they sell to engravers, and in order to make a correct translation they must catch the spirit of the works they copy. The greatest engravers make their own drawings and catch the spirit of the masterpieces of painting from first hands. The engravers [illegible] the eighteenth century worked for glory and the good of the church, and their work had no commercial side.

The difference between etching and line engraving is that the former is free hand and the latter is done under manual restriction. Passing thoughts and sudden inspirations [illegible] be expressed by ordinary engraving, and unless the work is [illegible] from love of it, or as a sort of a religious task it is apt to be mechanical and lacking in spirit while the etcher goes directly to nature and transfers what he sees with all its inspiration rapidly to his plate, and when his work is printed others have the privilege of feeling what he felt.

The early Italian school of engraving was one of outline, which is the beginning of all culture. In the German outline existed only to bring art detail not beauty. Albert Durer, the leader of it, introduced so many objects as to confuse the eye, and they are so obtrusive as to [illegible] the spirit. There are two ways of dealing with multitudes in the graphic arts; either the crowd is represented as seen separately or it is grouped in subordination to the pictoral scheme. When represented independently it appears more numerous and obtrusive than when subordinated, and Durer wanted every detail to be seen. So careful of this was he that furniture is now manufactured in New York from the styles in his pictures.

The Italian school was one of simplicity with regard to introduction of objects. The English gave prominence in engraving to exhibitions of manual skill and certain abstract styles, such as outline and projection, and had no shade, no interpretation of nature.

Pure line work reached its perfection in the hands of Marco Antonio, the translator of Raphael, who worked under the direction of his master. The old masters were not expected to give good drawing which is attained in the modern school, among whose achievements in line work is delicacy of tone in landscape. Modern English landscape engraving has reached its highest and best plane, but the work of to-day does not surpass that of the eighteenth century. The work of American engravers ranks well with that of the foreign schools.

The popular taste is not favorable to line engraving. Though greatly admired it is not sold. One hundred etchings are sold to one engraving of the master pieces of art, and decadence in this line of art is the result.

It is so seldom now that engravers can be found who will give their lives and inspiration to the work, that translations of the masters entirely lacking in their power and spirit are printed so rapidly and cheaply that the public with a taste for art can catch no inspiration from them; hence it turns to etchings which do not lose the spirit of the artist no matter if hundreds of impressions have been taken.

Among the fine engravings exhibited was "Thoughts by the Sea," a three fourths lifesize representation of a woman seated on a rock with her back to the sea and giving a full view of the face which one fancied reflected the peace of the sunlit rippled sea, the rise and cadence of its waves carrying, perhaps, an undertone of sadness and nameless longings, all filling her eyes and face with nobleness and sweetness. It is the [illegible] new thing in engraving, after a New York artist, [illegible] line engraving as the hair and the rock are etched.

Another engraving entitled "Golden Thoughts," represents a New England maiden with a bunch of roses and prayer book in hand, walking in a thoughtful manner to church. The background represents a pastoral scene. It is also a combination of pure line work and etching.

This afternoon Mrs. Adsit's finest pictures will be exhibited to ticket holders at the residence of Mrs. Hagerman.

WATER MATTERS.

Figures Regarding the City's Future Water Supply

The GAZETTE yesterday morning contained some account of the work being done by which the water ... the council proposes to ... ply of city water. City Engineer Reid was interviewed regarding the work yesterday, and kindly gave some estimates and figures which will ... of interest. The pipe line from Bear creek to connect with the 10 inch main on the Colorado City road, will be two and a quarter miles in length, and will cost $25,000. Water will be taken into the pipe at the same altitude as the Ruxton creek line. A reservoir will be constructed at the mouth of the canon similar to the one on Ruxton creek on a site given the city by Mr. Anthony Bott. Mr. Reid yesterday made the surveys for the reservoir site. The pipe for this one is nearly all distributed along the ... and a large part of the trenching ...

Perhaps the biggest scheme which the city has on hand is the Lake Moraine reservoir. This reservoir must not be confounded with Lake Moraine ... to be a separate body of water entirely. Just removed from Lake Moraine by a hundred feet or so is a large natural basin, which at some time has been the bed of a lake. It is fifteen feet below the level of Lake Moraine and through the center of this depression runs Ruxton creek, which at some time was probably the principal feeder of the old lake. It has been by tunneling through the ridge of land separating Lake Moraine from the old basin that the city has been able to appropriate the water of the lake during the past summer. At some time in the past the water of the old lake has cut a channel for itself and eventually emptied into Engleman's canon. It is now proposed simply to dam up the outlet, and fill up the old lake at ... of high water for a storage reservoir. An examination of the soil in the bottom of the old lake has been made by competent experts and it is found to be a fire clay. The reservoir will have the ... bottom of any natural reservoir in the world. It is estimated that it will hold, when completed, 400,000,000 gallons.

Work upon the reservoir east of the city is already begun, and as soon as workmen can be spared from the Bear creek and Ruxton creek enterprises, the main to carry the surplus water there is to be laid. The pipe which will return the water to the city was laid a year ago. This ... voir is also a natural basin and will hold eighteen feet of water without any embankment. When ... pleted the ... will be three-fourths of a mile in length and one-fourth of a mile wide.

When the 16 inch main now being laid through Manitou is completed the city will be able to take five times as much water through the ... creek line as it is getting at present. There is not that much water in the creek of ... but it is ... there shall be ... day. On ... of the ... which it was necessary to make with the Iron Springs company for right of way the city was compelled to carry the 16 inch pipe half a mile further up the mountain than at first estimated, which entails considerable cost and will have to ... out of the new b... Mr. Reid expressed the opinion that the water supply question is settled for Colorado Springs for ever. In fact the city is getting ... than it can really take care of, although as a city grows the ... for water multiply very fast. Mr. Reid estimates that we will have a supply for a city of from one hundred to one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. He is of the opinion that the city is getting the work ... dirt ch... p too.

The water committee is considering the advisability of building another reservoir higher up on the Mesa. Colorado Springs is stretching so far to the north that two systems of watering the city will have to be inaugurated. A pressure which will supply the north end with sufficient water for fire ... is too great for the pipes in the south end. The ... is coming soon when the north end will have to be supplied from a reservoir farther up on the Mesa, leaving the lower part of town to be supplied from the Huerfano street main.

EVANSTON, Ill., August 20, 1889.

KIND FRIEND: The sixteenth convention of the National W...'s Christian Temperance ... meets in Battery D, Chicago, November 8, and continues through the 12th, with meetings of special interest on the Sabbath day. The ... is over two hundred ... and earnest hearted women who are devoted to works of philanthropy ... lines that build up the temperance reform. That their view of this reform is very ... is proved from the fact that they have forty distinct departments of work, ... the general heads of preventive, educational, evangelistic, ... legal and the department of organization. Through their influence, scientific temperance instruction has been secured by law in all the territories in all schools supported in whole or in part from the United States treasury (namely: West Point, Annapolis, the Indian schools, army post schools, etc.), and in twenty ... states the same laws are now in operation. They have special lines of work for soldiers, sailors, miners, and all classes who are in circumstances of especial temptation so far as pure and wh... habits of life are concerned. They have a network of juvenile societies extending from Tampa bay to Puget sound. They have a systematic course of reading for mothers, and mothers' meetings are a feature of the local auxiliaries. In these heredity and hygiene are subjects especially considered. They have a publishing house in Chicago which sends out about sixty millions of pages annually and prints The Union Signal, which has sixty thousand subscribers, and is the chief paper ever edited and published by women. Their gospel work has permeated the nation, and was ... more ... pursued than now. In the social realm they seek especially to enlist the influence of young women, and to hold up the standard of total abstinence for others' sake. The department of the White Cross and the White Shield, which is one of the largest, has called special attention to the securing of laws for the protection of women, and to the equalizing of the standard of an upright life, making it the same for men that it has always been for women. The society has about ten thousand local auxiliaries, and representatives from every state and territory will be in attendance at the ... convention. Your influence, by way of good will ... spectfully asked to help us ... vention a success and your presence will be most cordially welcomed.

Will you be so kind ... the ...

MANITOU SPRINGS.

The additions to the Cliff and Barker are both making rapid progress.

Work on the water main is being dispatched with all speed. The pipe is being laid through the center of town.

Mrs. P. S. Hanna of Extl, Kan., is with her daughters at the Williams cottage. She expects to spend the winter in Manitou.

The Sunny Side is having a good run of guests this fall. Captain Rogers is reaping the benefit of the broad and sunny veranda which he carried around the hotel to the southwest last spring.

Excavation has been made around the Navajo soda spring and the masonry wall has been laid to much larger radius. This increases the accumulation of the gas, which is carried by pipe to the bottling works to re-charge the water when bottled. The increase is made by the mineral water company preparatory to the erection of the new works.

Superintendent Frost will shut the water off in a portion of the city to day as follows, beginning at 10 o'clock: From the east side of Cascade avenue to the west side of Tejon street, between Pike's Peak avenue and Cache la Poudre street.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, NORWALK, CONN.

St. Paul's was probably the first Episcopal church ... in this country, for it is believed to be the ... church consecrated by Bishop Seabury, the first bishop in North America. The parish was founded in 1737, a small building being thrown up for worship. Five years later a ... edifice was constructed. This was burned by the British on the morning they burned Norwalk, July, 1779. A temporary building was used for the following two or three years, and finally the third structure, the one consecrated by Bishop Seabury—was erected. This was used until it was removed to make room for the ... building erected in 1840.

One of the early rectors of St. Paul's was Jeremiah Leaming, D. D., a graduate of the class of 1745, Yale college. He resigned his pastorate in 1779, and was succeeded after a few years by Rev. John Bowden, afterwards bishop of Connecticut and professor of moral philosophy and belles lettres at Columbia college, New York city. He received a salary of £80 a year. Under his pastorate the church ... stated in 1786 was begun, and he set out the trees ... above.

Rev. George Ogilvie, son of John Ogilvie, D. D., of Trinity church, New York city, was the next rector. The new church was completed during his rectorate. In 1790 he resigned, and was succeeded by Dr. William Smith, a ... and writer. He was the author of the office of institution, the only American office in the Episcopal book of prayer. Succeeding him were Rev. Henry Whitlock; Dr. Bethel Judd, of the class of 1797, Yale college; Rev. Mr. Johnson, afterwards rector of St. John's church, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rev. Reuben ... and Rev. Henry B. Atwater. During the ... of the last named the ... of ... marriage in the church was begun. In 1831 Rev. Jackson K... was offered the rectorship. He filled the position until 1833, ... He was called to the ... of the northwest. His wife lies buried in the churchyard at St. Paul's. Bishop K... was succeeded by Rev. ... of Philadelphia, who ... less than a year.

Rev. William Cooper Mead, D. D., also of Philadelphia, was called in July, 1836, and continued rector of the church until his sudden death, July, 1873. It was largely ... his influence that the present edifice was erected. His ... "Not a building, not a wall, not a ... even is standing which ... THE NORTH END ADDITION!

CENTRAL OFFICE 106 PIKE'S PEAK AVE.

This city is going NORTHWARD. Careful investors see this and are buying in the NORTH END ADDITION. Lots on Cascade Avenue, Tejon Street and Nevada Avenue, at present prices, are sure to make money. Costly buildings already erecting show the character of the addition as a site for homes. Prices on Cascade Avenue have already been advanced, though the addition has been on the market but a short time. The Street Railway extends through the addition and every lot has City Water. Those who wish safe investments, or homes in the best section, should secure lots NOW before prices are further advanced.

We have also a list of miscellaneous properties comprising the best offered for sale in the city and its environs.
